How to Apply for College of Engineering Scholarships
For Incoming Students

After you've applied for admission to UW-Madison and activated your NetID you can begin applying for scholarships. You do not have to wait until you've received an admissions decision to apply for scholarships.

1) Open up the Wisconsin Scholarship Hub (WiSH)

2) Sign in with your NetID
3) You will be taken to the brief “General Application.” This is a basic set of questions that will help us find which scholarships you are eligible for.
4) Based on your answers in the General Application, you will then be directed to fill out more specific application questions, called the “College of Engineering - Incoming Freshman (Conditional) Application.”

- This is a single application for the Engineering Freshman Achievement Award. By completing this application, you will be considered for most scholarship funds available to incoming freshman.

- Some applicants are also eligible for the Leaders in Engineering Excellence and Diversity (LEED) scholarships. To be considered for LEED Scholars, you must complete the LEED Scholarship Application.

  - Tip: the Conditional Application does not need to be finalized before you can begin the LEED Scholarship Application, however you will need to enter at least initial responses and placeholder text in essays in order to start the LEED application.

- You can change, edit, or update any of your answers up until the scholarship deadline of February 15th, 2019. Even if you hit “Finish and Submit” you can change anything until the deadline.
You will also see other applications in the navigation panel on the left hand side including, but not limited to, the “Wisconsin Alumni Association (WAA) Chapter Scholarships Application.”
5) From there, a list of “Other Recommended Opportunities” will be created for you containing any additional scholarships for which you are eligible.

6) To apply to any scholarships, click the “Apply” button to be taken to the application. Again, you can change, edit or update any part of your application until the February 15th, 2019 deadline.
